Dear Dr. Raemaekers,

Let me in the first place say how profoundly grateful my wife and I are to you for your magnificent present of the portrait. I have only just seen it myself, as it came when I was out of London. It seems to me quite admirable, though perhaps I am not the best judge of that. In any case, we thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

I should very much like to write an article for the "Telegraaf" if I can possibly find time to do it. By when would you like to have it? I should also like to write from time to time in your series. I imagine you would have no objection if I asked my press-agent to arrange for the simultaneous publication of the articles in <sup>our</sup> ~~our~~ continental papers. He would naturally consult you in making such arrangements.

But in the first place I should like to know a little more as to the date and length of article, then I could give you a more precise reply.

Again thanking you most warmly,

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Cecil

Dr. Louis Raemaekers.
