

CHARTWELL, WESTERHAM,
KENT.

6th December 1932

My dear Mr. Raemaekers,

I am most grateful to you for your letter and am much complimented to receive it. I well remember the wonderful and terrible force of your cartoons in the Great War and I am very glad to feel that we are in general agreement about the growing dangers of the present situation. It is astonishing what follies are committed in every direction and how all the ugly realities are hidden under a veneer of smooth words.

yours faithfully,
